> RACE TRACK, GUTTENBURG, Sept. 25.-To-day's card was a good one, and despite the chilly, penetrating weather a large crowd was present and enjoyed

RACE TRACK, GRAVESEND, Sept. 26.-The average crowd of about 3,000 The track was in splendid condition. No little amusement was caused by the receipt of a letter from a farmer attended the races here to-day, and those who thoughtlessly left wraps and at Cold Spring, N. Y., who desires to bet $500 on some of the horses at Gutten-burg and wishes to know how much he coats at home spent a disagreeable af-burg and wishes to know how much he can win with that amount.

The talent scored a decided win in the opening race, picking it one, two. Fanny Beverly was the gitt-edged good thing, and was played from 10 to 1 to 7 to 1.

She let all the way and won in a hard drive by a neck before the second choice, Madras. FIRST BACK.

the skies had a decidedly wintry appearance.

The card was fairly attractive and the racing worth looking at.

Puglist Charley Mitchell was a visitor at the course, and was, of course, the centre of critical and admiring crowds.

The opening event had four starters, Kingston, Pedestrian, Tormentor and Clio coit. They were preferred in the order named, with Kingston at odds-on.

Clio colt was the despised outsider, at 100 to 1, and any innocent who ventured the assertion that he had a chance was laughed to scorn.

Clio coit astonished every one. He ran the race of ris life and had the race been twenty feet shorter Clio would have won.

been twenty feet shorter Clio would have won.

Pedestrian beat him in the last jump. Kingston stopped badly in the last furlong and finished last.

The talent was badly hit in the second race. They plunged on Strathmeath to win, driving his price down to 6 to 5.

Den Alonzo, the second choice, had meath to win, driving his price down to 6 to 5.

Don Alonzo, the second choice, had no difficulty in winning. He seems to be at his best now, and when Sims called on him he passed his field without an effort. Strathmeath had hard work to beat Highland for second money.
A favorite managed to win the third race, and as the price quoted against him was most generous, it is safe to assume that the talent got even for their reverses in the preceding evenns.
Filtration was the choice, and she managed to win by a very short head in a hard drive from Halton, who was backed to win a barrel of money. Rubicon, a 12 to 1 chance, was third. FIRST BACK.

Lizzle led the field by the stand, but gave way to Highland, who set a fast pace down the backstretch, closely followed by Victorious and Lizzle. No change was noticed until the field swept into the straight. Then the tail-enders began to move and the pacemakers were easily passed. Don Alonzo went to the front in the first furlong and won easily by a length and a half arom Strathmeath, who beat Highland three parts of a length. Time-1.91-2.

Mutuels paid: Straight, $21.75; place, $9.15. Strathmeath par., $7.45.

Mr. Rork has been prominent in thestrical circles as the financial man of "The Tar and Tartar" and "Jupiter. Last year Mr. Rosenfeld wrote the li cetto of "The Rainmaker of Syria" for Mr. Rock. The latter paid him $1,000 for it and promised to produce it.

Mr. Rork, not being ready to stage

Mr. Rork, not being ready to stage the opera, Mr. Rosenfeld told him that Ruiolph Aronson would produce it, and would also advance money on it.

He asked that the libretto be returned to him. This was done, and Mr. Rosenfeld gave ar. Rork two notes of $750 ard $250, payable on demand.

He agreed to meet these notes as soon as the opera was produced. The agreement between the trio was that if the hotts were not paid Mr. Rork was not to lose equity in the play and was also to receive a portion of the royaltles.

Mr. Rosenfeld was to receive from Mr. Aronson 4 per cent, of the receipts of the holise.

said that until the managers could observe the drift of the investigation they did not care to decide as to whether or not they wished counsel.

Deputy Attorney-General Gilbert said the appeared for the people, and his sole endeavor would be to bring out the facts called by both sides. Attorney-General Rosendale had suggrested that if the Superintendent or managers of the Reformatory desired to appear by counsel no objection should be made by Mr. Gilbert.

Supt. Brockway said he was perfectly satisfied to go on without counsel.

President Craig said that the Committee withed to be able to guarantee to all convicts within the Reformatory wills or on parole who testified before the Committee that they would be protected, and he suggested that the Board of Managers pass a resolution to that effect, so that the hestimony of the convicts may be without fear.

Supt. Brockway said that he would deprecate the spreading upon the minutes of the Board of Managers any evidence to imply that witnesses would be compelled to suppress complaints. He suggested that the convicts be assembled in the becture hall a half hour before the study hour to-night and that he he allowed to make the statement to them in the presence of the Committee that no convict would gain or lose anything by his testimony before the Committee that no convict would gain or beau anything by his testimony before the Committee.

He would suggest that each prisoner then be given a gummed envelope and a sheet of writing paper on which to write any complaints that they wished to make to the Committee, the envelopes to be scaled and turned over to the Committee after the study hour to-right. Some discussion followed on this question, the Committee feeling that such a resolution as suggested by President Craigs should be adopted by the Board of Managers. The Managers and Supt. Brockway were asked to be ready by to-morrow micrains.
